WALNUT STREET THEATRE.—The gorgeous spectacle of the Navad Queen is still upon the boards at this popular theatre. Each representation of this drams gives the audience an insight in a some new attraction, so that, notwithstanding the uncomfortable heat, there is no inline off in the night y attendance. It will undoubtedly enjoy a long ran.

HELLER.—This princely magician still draws large erowds to the Arch Street Theatre. His music is rayishing, but his magic is marvellous; and the mystery with which he veils his tricks is absolutely impenetrable. For that reason it is all the more ac-

BEYANT'S MINSTRELS.—The art of minstre'sy, according to the Ethiopian interpretation, has been advanced to a high degree of perfection by the Bryants. The multitude that nightly crowds the New Chesnut Sireet likeare attests the manner in which our citizens appreciate their delineations of negro character and eccentricities

THE EFFECTS OF BAD HANDWRITING .- It appears that a gentleman in Michigan owned a building which was situated on the lands of the Michigan Central Rullway, and the company desiring him to remove it, the superintendent, who writes a most uncouth hand, sent him a short letter, ordering its removal at once. The house was not taken away, however, and three months afterwards the superintendent met the owner, and began scolding him for not doing it The explanation was soon made; the notice had been reserved; nobody could decipher it; some one had suggested it might be a free pass, and upon that suggestion the owner of the building had been riding over the road for three months, the conductors being as unable as the rest of the world to decipher the note

AN AMUSING STORY, By One who Visited the Colton Dental Asseciation.

"Alighting from the omnibus which has brought us up through Broadway's hurrying throng which seem ever pursuing some mocking phantom that eludes their grasp we ascend the marble sieps of the 'Cooper Union.' It is 'all very fine' to enter this pleasant reception room, but the studio beyond the folding doors-'ay, there's the rup!' But as the kindly face and pleasant voice of the Professor greet us, our errand seems shorn of half its terrors. Yet we cannot forbear asking, as we present our credentials and look timidly up at the compassionate dark eyes so far above our own diminutive stature, 'Will it kill us?' A pleasant laugh and an assuring word convince us that our time has not yet come; and we comply with the invitation to enter the operating room, with our two accompanying triends (the fair tace of one assumes the hue of criven snow), with very much .he feeling that the fly accepted the proffered hospitality of the spider. "Fre aware of it we are seatedfin the dreaded chair, engaged in a pleasant conversation. Suddenly we find a prop asinuated between our jaws, and the mouthplece of a villanous looking black bag between our lips. Two pair of bands, so gentle in their manipulations as to almost ead one to doubt their owners belonging to the mascu me persuasion, hold our mouth upon the pipe that the inhalation of the gas may be more perfect, while the owners of the aforesaid hands speak gentle words of encouragement. The soft hand of a lady assistant is laid assuringly on our own, and we can a'most feel the suppressed anxiety of the two beloved companions behind the chair. A buzzing sound, as of myriad swarms o bees! Anon comes floating by, in grand measures and lone-drawn cadences, a sweet old triumphal hymn, such as those may sing who, having left all of earth behind them, enter into the glory of the Lord; and mingled with this, a wild symphony of cashing waves, ringing their 'ceaseless never more.' Yet how strange! that inst word of the hymn gave us a slight twitch, followed by two more, which partook of the nature of a strong yet paintess wrenct. Your teeth are out, say three kind voices. But we have not come down yet to the sublunary world sufficiently to comprehend their meaning, until the assurance is repeated by one of the familiar voices behind the chair. We tise a new being and leave at the feet of the kind operator fifteen motors and incisors—a tribute to the greatest discovery of the age.

Intit will be asked does it destroy all pain? Is the gas pleasant to breathe? Does it leave any bad effects literwards? Can a person with weak langs or heart disease inhale it with safety? We answer it does destroy all pain; it is pleasant to breate—no bid effects, such as depression erreac ion, follow; it is safe for those having weak lungs or heart disease. Indeed we have had firty such patients tell us they feit better for a week storichalling the cas. giter inhaling the gas.

But what do the medical profession say of the gas? The following letter from the distinguished surgeon, Dr. J. M. Carnochao, to Dr. Co.ton, speaks for itsel: — No. 14 Fast Skateenth Street, New York, December 22, 1865.

TESTIMONY FROM DR GRISCOM.

New York. March 8 1865.

Having cocasion recentive to undergo a minor surgical operation of much severity. I embraced the opportunity to try the anasthetic effect of hirrors exide gas, administered by Dr. G. Q. COLTON. I found it aerically satisfactory. I was put into a sound sleep in a few seconds, and remained so until the operation and dressing of the wound were completed. While looking for the incisions to begin, I found they had all been done.

The degree of insensibility produced by the gas may be intered from the following AMU-ING INCIDENT.

A lady came to our office to have one tooth extracted, After examining the tooth we administered the gas and when she sell askeep the tooth was extracted. On waking she spit out the blood, and in a few minutes was asked to vacate the chair for another patient and take a sent at the table. Not offering to pay, we ask a genter cominder, asked her to add her name to our genter cominder, asked her to add her name to our geroll. "Whell said the laly, when are you going to draw my tooth?" The tooth had been out ten minutes!
